About the Short Term Course:
Bridges are one of the most important and expensive lifeline structures, but Bridge Design is often neglected in regular study curriculum in India. This short term course is, hence, being organized at IIT Bhubaneswar to provide an interactive platform for the participants to know the state of the art knowledge and practice in road bridge design, with special attention to seismic design considerations. The course has a right blend of lectures and practical sessions which will be taken by renowned academicians from IITs and leading industry experts. It will also offer hands on training on sample design examples. The major topics that will be covered in this course are as follows.

- Philosophy of Bridge Design
- Introduction to Various Types of Bridges
- Hydraulic and Geotechnical Considerations in Bridge Design
- IRC Loading on Bridges
- Seismic Considerations for Bridge Design
- Design of Shallow and Deep Foundation
- Bridge Bearing Design
- Self-Compacting Concrete in Bridges
- Design of Bridge Superstructure
- Design of Retaining Structures
- Maintenance and Rehabilitation of Bridges

The course will also offer some hands on exercise on design of bridges guided by professional bridge designers.

Who can attend?
This short course is aimed at academicians, researchers and engineers associated with road bridge design.
